Reasons for admission

People are referred to the Inpatient Unit for several reasons, such as complex symptom management, rehabilitation following treatment, respite care and end of life care.

Before you are admitted to Hospice

We understand that Hospices can be a little overwhelming, especially if this is your first time visiting one. Therefore, before you are admitted you are welcome to chat with the Inpatient Manager who will listen to any concerns you may have.

"I got it so wrong. I thought it was going to be 'a sad place' but it has a very homely and relaxed atmosphere."

What happens when you are admitted?

Following admission to our unit, the multi-disciplinary team will carry out a holistic assessment with you to ensure we provide you with the best care.

Family/carers will have an opportunity to ask questions about treatment and care, with your consent.

You will receive an information booklet which will explain all aspects of Hospice including meals, visiting and all the services available.
